CATHOLIC RULES OF ORDER AND DECENCY IN SACRED PLACES

Attire:

Church attire for special occasions should conform to accepted standards of elegance, while respecting traditional rules regarding dress in church. Basic decency required in church includes:

for women: covered shoulders, a modest neckline, and a skirt or dress that covers the knees. Transparent materials or tight-fitting clothing are not permitted in church.

for men: formal attire, e.g. a suit or long trousers with a long-sleeved shirt. Wearing shorts, tank tops, or very short-sleeved shirts is not allowed in church.

Seating:

Due to centuries-old tradition in Poland, in churches and chapels where traditional pastoral practice is observed, the faithful take their places according to gender: men on the Gospel side (left), and women on the Epistle side (right). For our Guests unfamiliar with the Catholic Mass, please follow the congregation's lead on sitting, standing, and kneeling.

Receiving Holy Communion:

The Eucharist is the real body and blood of Christ, therefore only Catholics who are in a state of sanctifying grace (recent confession) can receive it. Other Guests should remain in their pews, using this time for quiet reflection. Those receiving Communion should kneel at the altar rail, place their hands under the white cloth covering the rail, and receive the Holy Eucharist directly into the mouth, slightly extending the tongue. During the reception of Holy Communion, we do NOT say: "Amen."
